JOKES

The following were taken from semester exam papers:

"The lungs and the heart are situated in the borax."

"Infantry is a place where they keep infants."

"A vampire is a man who settles baseball games"

"Ink is obtained from the Black and the Red Sea."

Senior's favorite toast: "Here's to our parents and teachers; may they never meet."

Nancy: "Do you like indoor sports?"

Gretchen: "Yes, if they go home early."

Finis, in English class---You know, the more I read this stuff the less I know."

Miss Haley: "I see you have been reading a lot lately."

The Fifth Hour English Class (Miss Haley speaking)

We shall review today

Of everything we've studied previously.

Everett, please sit down

And I want your face this way.

Shelly wrote "The Cloud"

And Thackeray "Vanity Fair,"

Betty, please don't think aloud,

Ruth, stop combing your hair.

Robert Browning gave us "Pippa Passes"

Darell, do you behave that way in all your classes?

"Crossing the Bar" by Tennyson,

Don't look out the windows, Waymon.

Goldsmith's father was a clergyman,

And Gray wrote "In a Country Churchyard,"

"All for Love" was Dryden's greatest,

But I want you attention, Jimmie.

Shakespeare wrote "As You Like It"

And Johnson wrote "Every Man in His Humor,"

We will have a written lesson tomorrow,

Regardless of whether you wish it.

Psalm of Algebra

Miss Walters is my teacher, I shall not pass.

She maketh me to work dense problems,

She leadeth me to expose my ignorance before the class.

She maketh me to gain proof for grades sake.

Yes, though I study till midnight, I shall learn no algebra.

The theorems bother me and the corolaries sorely trouble me.

She prepareth quizzes for me in the presence of mine enemies.

She giveth me a low grade.

My work runneth over.

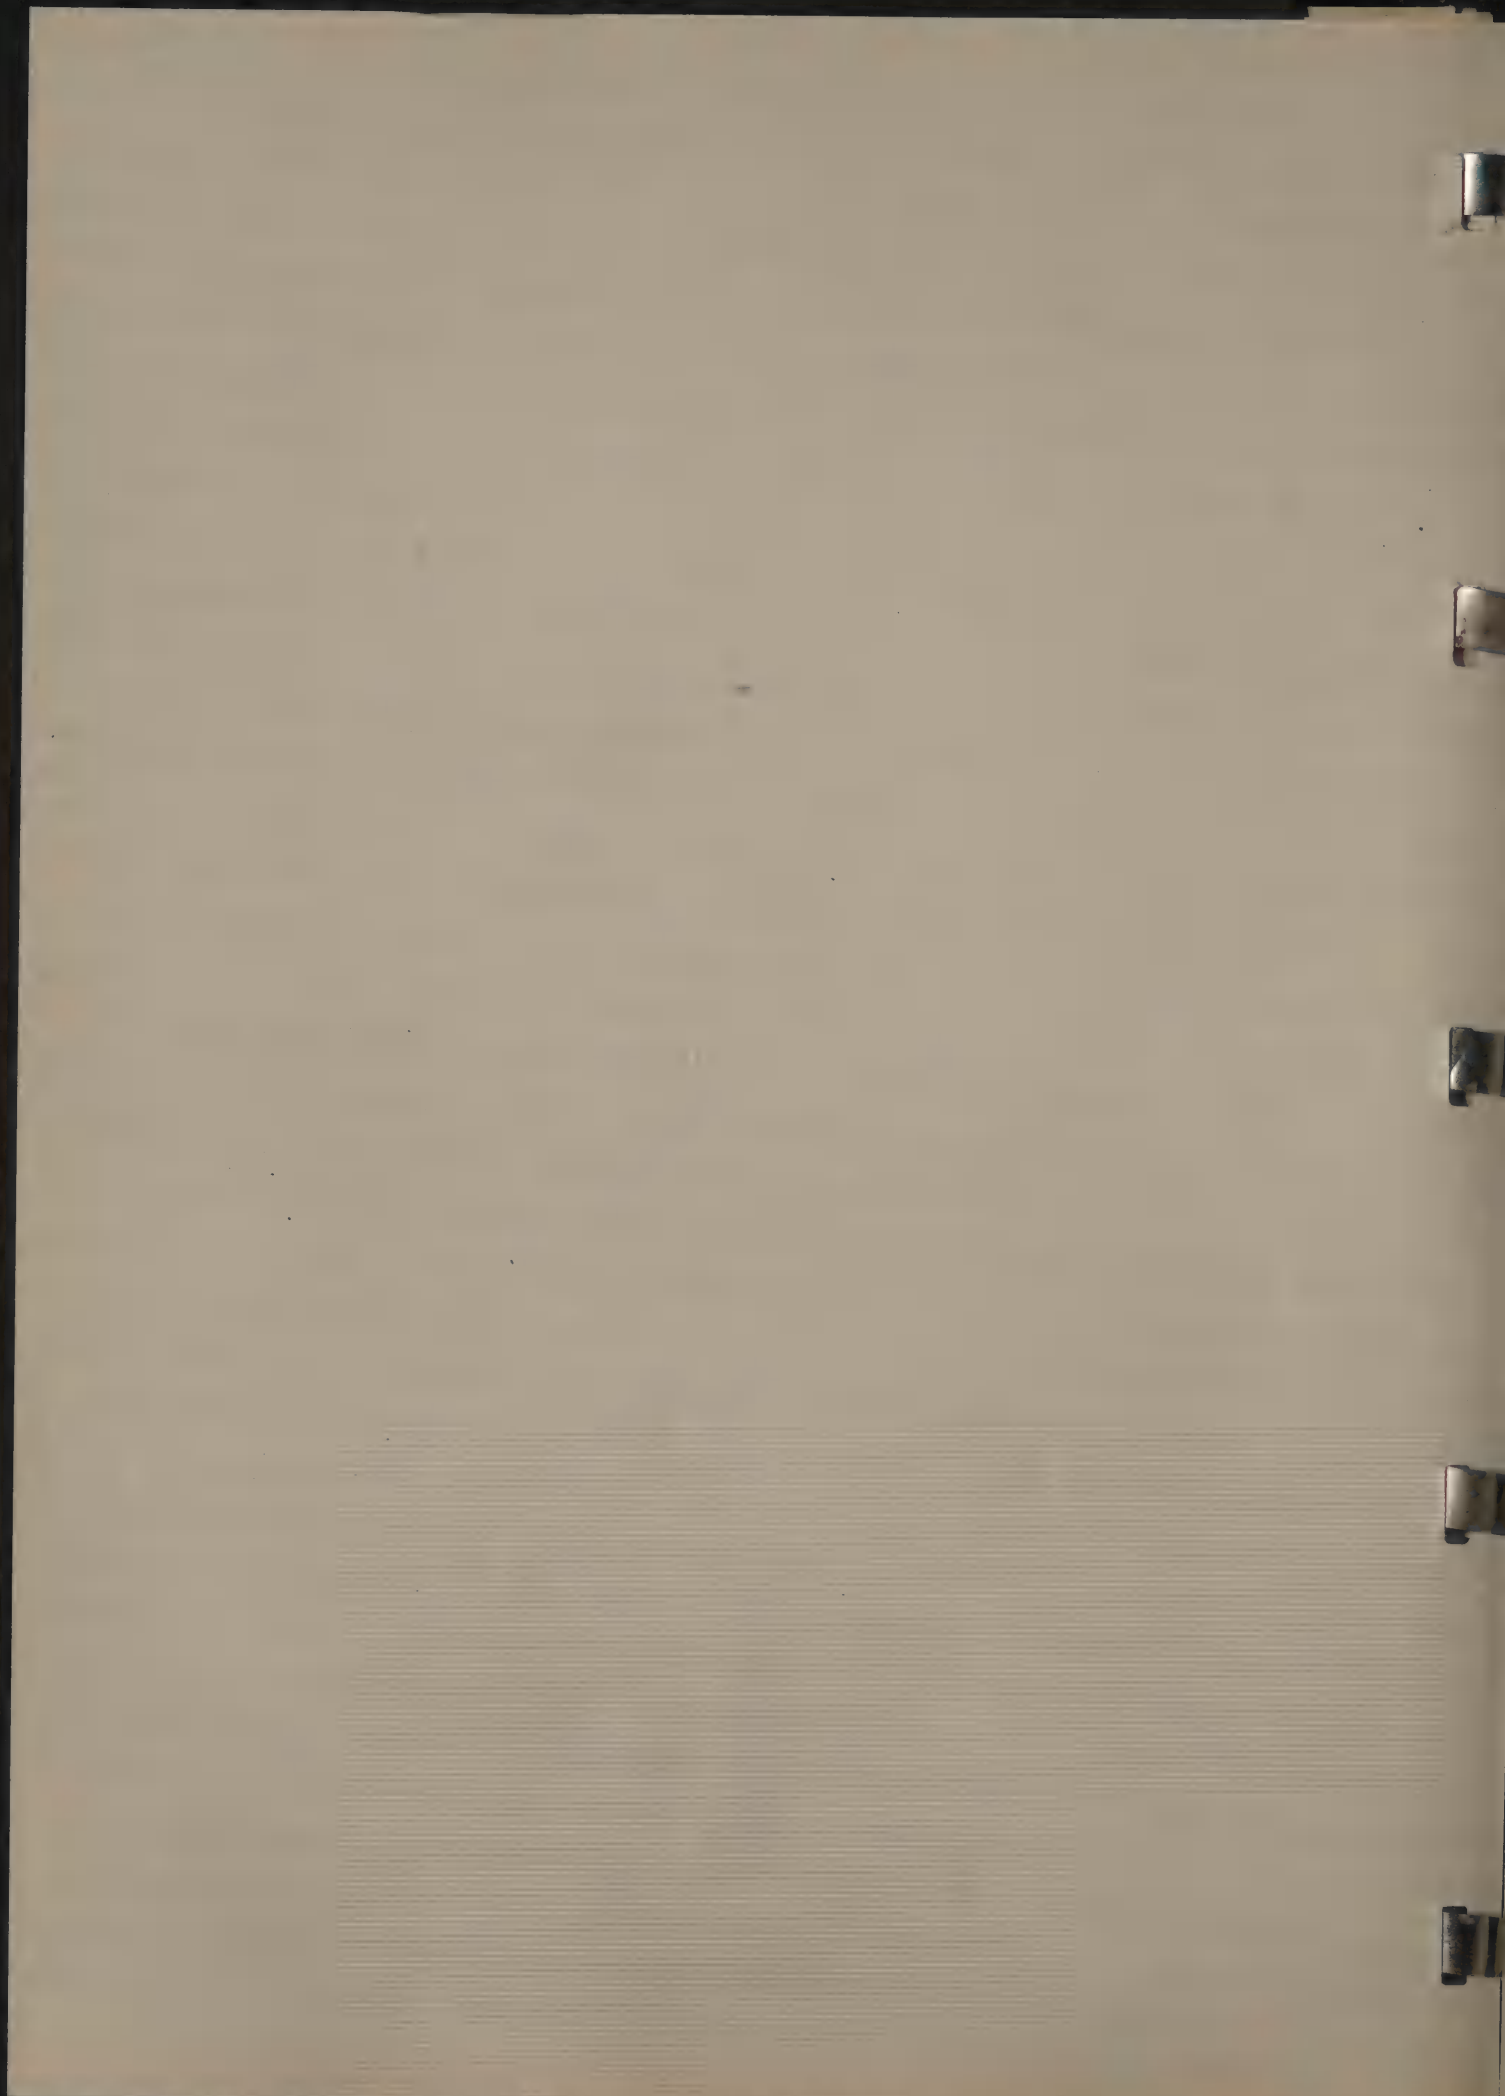

Surely zero or conditions shall follow me all the days of my life

And I shall dwell in the class of algebra forever.

Amen.
